

International Low Flutes Festival is Available to All of Us!

June 16th – 19th, Online, one-time $50

Recordings of festival events will be made available to registrants for three months after the event.

We want GPFS members to know about a huge opportunity to be totally absorbed in the low flute world with some of the best low flutists in the world! Please help us spread the word to other flutists in Oregon!

In addition to those among us who simply like playing low flutes, this seems like an excellent opportunity for college students or other flutists who want a solid introduction to the instruments (maybe advanced middle school through adult amateurs). Professional flutists, teachers, and performers, are also likely to love the event program and featured artists.

To learn more, read the information below (drawn from the event webpage) or, better yet, go to the actual event website.

Low Flute Opportunity-International Low Flutes Festival 2022, ONLINE. Festival registration fee is only a one-time $50. Once your festival registration (i.e. membership) fee is paid, you will be able to log in and access the Festival Portal where you will find links to recordings of the events for 3 months following the festival.

June 16th and 19th bringing together a vibrant roster of activities for low flute players around the world. The festival will feature world-class low flute headliners including ILFF's founder and celebrated author, Chris Potter, jazz rock-star Ali Ryerson, international touring artist Matthias Ziegler, and the dynamic Japan Jazz Flute Big Band directed by Yuko Hoshi.

Featuring performances by international solo artists, low flute choirs, chamber music ensembles, workshops, panel discussions, masterclasses, and coaching, the ILFF 2022 promises to offer something unique for low flute players of all skill levels.

Join our play-along sessions, discover new repertoire for low flutes, listen to experts offer performance tips, participate in live Q&A sessions or the Opening Flute Choir ceremony, and interact with low flute players enthusiasts from around the world.

FESTIVAL EVENTS

- Performances by international artists
- A Bass Flute Competition
- Performance by soloists, chamber ensembles and choirs
